JavaScript/HTML5 Web Developer

The chosen candidates will be part of the local team responsible of a major project in the public services field for UNCTAD, a high profile international organization based in Switzerland.

Requirements

- Minimum 1 year of professional experience in developing HTML5 web projects in JavaScript. Familiar with MV* architectures.

- Demonstrated work experience with JavaScript and CSS. Good understanding of JavaScript language and ECMAScript standard is required, knowledge of trending frameworks is highly appreciated.

- Demonstrated work experience with at least one database management system. Knowledge of NoSQL databases would be a plus.

- Strong knowledge of Functional and Object Oriented programming concepts

- Good understanding of technical and functional design requirements.

- Very good knowledge of web fundamentals, how web applications works.

- Familiarity with node.js is a big plus

- Good problem solving skills

- To be fluent in English (writing, speaking, reading), French knowledge will be a plus

Job Responsibilities

- Adheres to coding standards defined by technical management

- Identifies system deficiencies and recommends solutions.

- Configures web application models and views (pages) on top of our JavaScript application stack (following introductory training)

- Ensure good code management and that your code is sufficiently tested

- Accurately employs our development tools.

- Follows established communication guidelines.

- Accurately completes and submits time and expense reports in a timely manner.

- Able to work reliably and meet deadlines.

Contact

Send CV at jobs@eregulations.org